MASONIC CIRCUS AND HORSE SHOW GREAT SUCCESS

The Manosic Circus and Horse Show in Arlington is a thing of the past but its memory will remain with those who attended for some time and it will go down in the town's history as the biggest event of its kind ever held within its borders. In fact, Menotomy Royal Arch Chapter can boast as having given through the untiring efforts of some of its members, under the skillful direction of Harry Orr, the biggest show this part of the country has ever seen under one tent.

In last week's Advocate was reported the episodes and the names of the local talent as far as it was possible to obtain them. There were some names omitted from the program that which we will try to give at this time. In the May pole dance besides the names given on the program which we will try to give Josephine Hooker, Evelyn Gillis, Gladys York, Elizabeth Watts, Priscilla Watts. This dance was coached by Miss Alice W. Homer who gave untiringly of her services and had charge of the line up of the parade around the circus tent at the beginning of each performance. This was one of the interesting features of the circus for there was where the local color came, for, with the exception of the band, the parade was all home talent.

William C. Drouet made a handsome ring master in his red coat, high hat and white breeches and Mrs. Fred L. Carter, as the Queen of Diamonds, was regal in her robes that set off her attractive face to splendid advantage and she was indeed the queen both in carriage and in beauty. Another special attraction was the Zouaves in their drill. Nothing better is seen on the professional stage than the drill by this fine appearing company. It was one of the best things put on.

The attractions on the outside were good money earners, especially the booth when a basket full of groceries was given the lucky holder of a number. This did a thriving business and many a head of the house was seen with his prize that more than paid him for the price of admission to the circus and horse show. Then there were frankforts for sale at booths, candy, tonics, ice cream cones. In the side shows were some freaks of nature. In one was a five legged calf. No end of young boys and girls sold ice cold tonics and candy also smokes during the hours of the circus and of course there were the circus peanuts.

The stands and booths on the circus grounds were as follows:— Candy, in charge of Harry W. Marden; Moxie and lemonade, William E. Bunton; dolls, Franklin L. Counsels; dodger, Clinton W. Schwamb; country store, Wilder N. Hodkins; flash board, Walter McFaul; baskets, Walter Graves; cigars and cigarettes, Paul Crowder, and E. F. Knight; food, Albion Cameron and ladies of the Eastern Star; ice cream, D. Herbert Buttrick; tonics, Bert Harwood; balloons, Dr. Ernest R. Brooks; parachute wheel, C. W. Whitney; peanuts and pop corn, R. C. Yeames and C. Vaughn; aluminum ware, Roger W. Homer.

Beatrice Robert, the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Whittemore and niece of Harry A. Whittemore, was the lucky winner of the beautiful doll. Beatrice is only five years old and the doll is about as large as she.

One of the attractions for Friday night was the presence of the Shriners Patrol and Band, making a company of some three hundred. They gathered in the center of the town and before marching to Bassett Field gave a concert in the square. They made a brilliant sight in their gorgeous costumes. That Harry Orr knows his business has been demonstrated twice in Arlington, but no doubt he will admit that much of the success of the undertaking was due to the hearty co-operation of the young people in the show, and to every one who was asked to assist. Especially to Mr. L. E. A. Smith, who was "Johnny on the spot" every day and evening and many days before the show, also Mr. Fred L. Douglass and Mr. John R. Wilkins. But every one did his part to bring about the stupendous success of this great undertaking.

One special and interesting feature of the Saturday afternoon matinee was the appearance of the Boy Scouts of this town, to receive their merit badges for their work during the past season. The boys made an inspiring picture as they marched into the big tent to the music of the circus band and around the big ring. It was noticeable, however, that many did not stand as the flag was passing by, nor did they salute the colors. The boys are taught respect of flag and if their elders do not show a good example, it makes the duty of the officers more difficult to instill this all important matter into the minds of the younger generation. Brig. Gen. Wilson B. Burr, U. S. A., Department of the Northeast, was the guest of the Scouts for their work and he arrived early and enjoyed the circus performance prior to the presentation of the merit badges. Just at the close of the circus the boys marched in review, being reviewed by Gen. Burr, Lieut. Harold L. Frost, scout commissioner, Harvey H. Bacon, scout executive, and Charles B. Devereaux, chairman of the Board of Selectmen. As the boys were drawn up in line, Lieut. Frost announced that Mr. Devereaux had been made an honorary member of the Boy Scouts. Mr. Devereaux accepted in a gracious manner. The exercises were of necessity short and consisted of the salute to the flag, the giving of the scout oath, inspection by Gen. Burr, presentation of the badges and review. The boys were drawn up at attention and inspected by Gen. Burr, who, with critical trained army eye, gave the boys a good going over, and expressed himself as pleased with their appearance. After the merit badges had been distributed (there being 109 given out in all), the boys gathered about Gen. Burr, who gave them a heart to heart talk on their work, what it means to be a Scout and urged the boys to read the life of

Alexander the Great, follow out his ideals and model their lives by his. Those receiving the merit badges were as follows:—

How did your neighbor's last bargain tire turn out

PROBABLY you know at least one car-owner who is always on the look-out for the cheapest tires he can find. He likes to get them by mail or at a sale or at some place where they have big red bargain signs over the door.

It would be fine if he could get "the edge" in every tire trade.

But the dealer can't afford to let him have it.

Even if a man saw any slight percentage in tire shopping at all—it disappeared when the "Usco" brought the price down.

A standard product—and the dealer sells it with pride.

A good tire. The dealer has no desire to trade you into a larger profit for himself.

An out-in-the-open tire. The dealer sells you confidence, not price. He wants you satisfied with performance and value. The only way he knows to get your business is to deserve it.

This is the "Usco" idea.

Compared with the ten-minute thrill of the bargain appeal, the "Usco" is just plain common-sense.

No tax charged on this 30x3½ "USCO"

SPECIAL

Best Horse in the Show Who Had Previously Won Blue Ribbons at This Show
CLASS 35 Grand prize was awarded to M. F. Murphy.

The committee was indebted to the following who donated cups and trophies given as follows:—

Mr. Franklin P. Shumway, Mrs. Freeman O. Emerson, Mr. William J. McDonald, Hon. James A. Bailey, London Harness Company, Hill and Hill, William Read & Sons, Grow Tire Company, Bent & Bush, Mr. Albion L. Danforth, Mr. Daniel L. Tappan, Mr. Louis K. Liggett, Mrs. Hugh Bancroft, Mr. Harry S. Orr, Fred W. Jouett, Mr. Lester N. Bacon, Charity Lodge, Cambridge Commandery, Mr. F. E. Thompson, Mr. Walter Colshaw, Brookline Riding School, Mr. Malcolm F. Jones, Mr. John K. Wilkins, Mrs. John R. Wilkins, Mr. Freeman O. Emerson.

There was not a dull minute from the time one entered the grounds until the last light was turned out each evening and that was after midnight. It would be hard to estimate just how many attended the affair but there were 8000 tickets sold. Fred S. Douglass has this arduous task but his efficiency was displayed in the manner in which it was handled. A prize was offered to the one selling the greatest number of tickets and that went to Mrs. Fred S. Carter, who disposed of 508. The nearest competitor sold 261 tickets.

There were a barrel of tickets disposed of for the Ford Sedan and the interest incident to it being drawn, centered in the circus ring on Saturday night when the barrel was rolled around the ring and then placed on the platform and a dainty miss drew out a number. A man from Reading was the lucky winner. Jack Burnham riding Mr. James A. Bailey's horse was a conspicuous figure on the turf. He could hold his own with any of the Rough Riders of the 101st Field Artillery and that is saying a good deal for the riders gave a wonderfully spectacular show.

The only thing that in any way marred the circus was the collapse of one small section of seats at the Friday evening performance. This was caused by the unusual amount of rain that soaked the ground. The seats had been thoroughly inspected by the state and the town inspector, who had pronounced them all right. Fortunately no one was seriously injured. Those who were in the section are to be commended for the coolness they displayed. There was not an outcry or any demonstration and there were many in the audience who were not aware that there had been any trouble.

CO-OPERATION NEEDED

There are few intelligent people who are not now conscious that the world war shattered the world's economic machine. The gathering of the group that formed the League of Nations, the Conference at Washington and the more recent assembling of world powers at The Hague, have each in its turn made it more and more clear that underneath all making of treaties and fixing territorial limits, lies that basal thing,—means with which to finance costs; the great processes of production and distribution of wealth.

The above proposition being admitted, is there any duty more paramount than to calmly, yet patiently, await the solution of a gigantic world problem, but at the same time stand ready to lend a helping hand in accomplishing results. The business world, even more surely than the world political, is sailing uncharted seas; for itself it must take the soundings and make the charts, and in doing this is opening the way for larger co-operation, closer fraternal relations, the first two steps in the march toward the desirable.

This being agreed to, how unwise appears the attitude of great blocks of wage earners in this country, under direction of chosen leaders, to refuse to accept changed and changing conditions on the plane that inevitably applies to business enterprises. What the country needs is production and production comes from joint action by capital that furnishes factories and material and labor that transforms raw material into manufactured goods. Capital, and we speak of it in the broad sense of representing every sort of production and providing transportation of manufactured goods, is a cowardly thing that does not willingly engage in any business that does not at least prospectively show a profit in its investment. It can live on itself and will do so. It seems to us that the question of increased production is up to the wage earners of the country. There can be no questioning of the statistics which show a substantial reduction in costs of living between now and the time when peak prices of commodities and of labor were reached.

COUNTY CONVENTION

There was a joint meeting of the Middlesex County G. A. R. Association and Woman's Relief Corps at Lexington on Tuesday, the former convening in G. A. R. Hall in Savings Bank building, the latter in the vestry of the First Parish church. The G. A. R. posts in Middlesex County were represented by eighty-seven comrades and other county associations had twelve present. Lexington Post has a membership of eight, six of whom were present. Mass. Dept., G. A. R., was represented by the senior and junior commanders and the acting adjutant. The oldest representative was Capt. Edwin F. Wyer of Woburn, now commander of Post 161. He responded in a happy vein to the congratulations offered by the association. The business was largely confined to routine matters, but attention was called to the proposed change in the wording of the salute to the flag, to make it read, "I pledge allegiance to the American flag," etc., instead of its present wording which is simply "my."

A generous donation was made to the John A. Andrew Home at Newton, which makes provision for the wife of a comrade as well as for himself in case of need.

At noon dinner was served in the banquet hall of First Parish church. The usual joint afternoon session was not held on Tuesday, it being deemed best to devote the time to visiting the many points of interest in this historic town. Dr. Fred S. Piper was a guest of the W. R. C. at its meeting in the church, and in an entertaining way gave a strong outline of the place Lexington holds in history and the reasons therefor.

The joint meeting of these associations will be held at Lowell in September.

We print on page 7 an article on our National Holiday, July 4, to which we invite attention of our people.

Gardner W. Pearson of Lowell, who is a member of the State Senate representing the 7th District in Mass. Legislature, has announced his candidacy for the office of District Attorney of Middlesex County.

The worst feature of that horrible affair in Illinois is the non-action of county officials, the attitude of the state government and the glossing over and excusing by members in Congress. For government by force instead of law there is no excuse.

We are pleased to note that the head of the Confederate Veterans, speaking for his comrades and the business of the southern states, repudiates the attempt of certain people to distort facts in school histories, charging Abraham Lincoln with being wholly responsible for the Civil War.

If there really exists the widespread dissatisfaction with the National House of Representatives, the primaries already held in eight states fail to show it. Out of a list of ninety-two Republican members seeking renomination, only six (two in Illinois and four in Pennsylvania) failed to receive substantial endorsement in the primaries.

The Directors of the Metropolitan Driving Club of Boston, announce that the eighth annual inter-club matinee races of the Junior League of Amateur Driving Clubs of the United States will be held at the Charles River Speedway, Allston, July 11th, 12th, and 13th, 1922, under their auspices. Already is assured the finest program of amateur trotting and pacing events in the history of the United States. It is expected that each of the eight clubs will bring approximately fifteen horses, making a total of one hundred and twenty trotters and pacers who will compete in the three days' program. The directors of the club are pleased to announce that sixteen mayors of Massachusetts have accepted invitations to attend upon the third and closing day.

THE EDISON ELECTRIC ILLUMINATING COMPANY OF BOSTON FIELD DAY

Ideal weather greeted more than 7000 men, women and children who attended the big field day outing of the Edison Electric Illuminating Co. of Boston, 1165 Mass. avenue, Dorchester, last Saturday, June 24th.

Great interest was taken in the competition among the various departments in the sports and games. The Supply Dept. won first place with 67 points. The large, white tent was well supplied with chicken and lobster salad, rolls, coffee, ice cream and cake.

A feature for the young was the vaudeville show, also a punch and judo, and merry go-rounds. Horns, whistles and other musical instruments were provided and a big crowd of boys and girls thronged the dance hall in the auditorium where the 101st Infantry Band furnished the music.

Mrs. Charles L. Edgar, wife of Prest. Edgar presented Gertrude Stropp and Myrtle Graves each a prize for the most original costumes in the baby contest.

Among the prominent men connected with the company present were, Prest. Charles L. Edgar, Gen. Supt. W. H. Atkins, Asst. Supt. L. L. Edgar, Treas. T. H. Cummings, A. C. Harlin.

The men who helped to run the affair smoothly were John J. Buckley, chairman of the entertainment committee; Samuel Clough of the hospital committee; Thomas Collins of the transportation committee; Arthur Havlin of the information committee; A. B. Chamberlain, in charge of the printing; George Atwood, chairman of the invitation committee; O. W. Landon of the refreshment committee; Harry Howe, chairman of the athletic committee; John J. Caddigan, in charge of publicity; Herbert W. Moses, superintendent of the employment bureau, was chairman of the entire committee and in full charge of the entire day.

ST. JAMES THEATRE

The St. James Theatre is indeed a popular dramatic house. Now that the Boston Stock Company has finished for the season the patrons demand more plays so the management made special arrangements with Walter Perkins, late of the George Cohan "Tavern" Company to produce "My Friend from India." Mr. Perkins opened with the original company at the Bijou Theatre, New York, and has played the part of A. Keene Shaver, thousands of times throughout the country. The piece concerns itself with the adventures ensuing upon the luckless homecoming of a rich young man who has been out on a glorious time, and who brings with him a stranger picked up in the course of his revel. In order to account for the presence of his accidental guest the young man conceives the brilliant idea of introducing him as his "friend from India," with whom he explains to his irate father he has been up all night studying the occult sciences of the East. The father is the conventionally exaggerated stage retired pork-packer, who, with his millions, has come to New York and is trying to buy a place for his daughters in society. All schemes have failed, but the appearance of the "man from India" suggests that to make a fad out of him may prove the open sesame. Complications then follow thick and fast, but underneath the mere fun and absurdity of the performance there is an element of satire which is clearly conceived. Mr. Perkins is to be supported by a very noted cast including Dorothy Bernard. "My Friend from India" should prove a very attractive mid-summer attraction.

About twenty young people were present, mostly neighbors of the Does. Miss Page will spend the summer in Arlington as the guest of her aunt.

—The Friday Social Club held its annual meeting and election of officers, Friday afternoon, June 23, at the home of Mrs. Herbert A. Snow on Claremont avenue. The officers for the coming year were elected as follows:—President, Mrs. George A. Clark; vice-president, Mrs. G. Franklin Gruber; recording secretary, Mrs. Frank Biggs; corresponding secretary, Mrs. F. R. Turner; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Harvey; auditor, Mrs. C. H. Interesting reports from the various committees covering last year's work were presented followed by a social hour with refreshments. The retiring president, Mrs. F. A. Patterson, made a charming little farewell speech. The incoming president, Mrs. Clark, accepted the chair with a happily worded speech. This was the last meeting of the season, having been postponed from the first of the month.

ELVIN E. SMALL DECEASED

After two years and a half of invalidism heroically borne, Elvin E. Small passed away at his late home, 105 Bow street, Arlington Heights, mourned by a large number of friends and relatives. The deceased was an ex-service man. While in service he was taken ill with influenza from which he never recovered.

He was one of those genial men who made friends wherever he went and was affiliated with several orders. They were the Fellowship Lodge, A. F. & A. M. of Bridge-water; Misphal Lodge, A. F. & A. M. of Cambridge; also Royal Arch Chapter of Cambridge; and Cambridge Templar; Alleppo Temple, Mystic Shrine, and the Elks Lodge of Cambridge.

The Elks held a service Tuesday evening at the home of the deceased and on Wednesday afternoon a service was held in the Arlington Heights Baptist church in charge of the Knight Templars. It was largely attended and the profusion of flowers were a silent expression of love and sympathy to the departed and his family. Several selections were sung by Mr. Fred Warren.

The body was cremated and the ashes buried in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

The deceased is survived by his wife, Ida Greenwood Small; a brother, George W. Small, and two sisters, Mrs. George W. Lusardi of Jamaica Plain and Mrs. Ray Bettenson of Long Beach, Cal.

ELEVEN ARLINGTON-BOYS WIN THEIR A'S

Dr. William T. McCarthy, director of athletics in the schools of the town, announces that the following boys have won their "A's" for track events. They are Charles Collins, Francis Forest, John Winner, Ralph Hardy, Edward Andres, Edgar Gazan, Lawrence Dallin, Edward Downing, John Kechejian, Charles Eaton and George Cothell.

This letter has only been won after hard work, a certain number of points being necessary to have the coveted prize.

While the track season is practically over, Dr. McCarthy is seeing to it that the boys are being kept in training for next fall's work, by giving them a cross country run each evening.

PLANS COMPLETE

The last act in completing the purchase of the land at St. Mihiel, France, for the memorial monument and park, "to the valor and sacrifice of Massachusetts citizens in the World War," was performed June 29th, when Mr. Walter A. Robinson, chairman of the Memorial Commission, cabled practically $20,000 to take up the option on the nearly ten acres of land, including "the Rocks," for the site. Mr. Robinson had selected this site last summer in accordance with the vote of the General Court, with the approval of the Governor and Council. One thing is now definitely settled, and that is, that Massachusetts will have for the location of its monument a position second to none in France.

When it is stated that the memorial is to be on the great boulevard from St. Mihiel to Verdun, overlooking the Meuse river, every citizen of Massachusetts will know that the two most prominent names associated with the services of their soldiers will be linked with this site.

When it was announced at the banquet given by the Maritime Association of France to General Pershing, that Massachusetts was to have "the Rocks" as the background for their memorial, a Vice-Admiral in the French navy remarked: "This is just like Massachusetts. She has always stood for the best in education, the best in government, the best in literature and in art. Now she has the best location in the battle area of all France for her memorial."

At the suggestion of the Committee on Military Affairs of the General Court, Mr. Robinson has proposed an illustrated lecture upon the "History of St. Mihiel," with particular reference to her experiences as a capital city for four years, and the site of the Massachusetts Memorial. This lecture is given free, if a lantern and operator are furnished and transportation for the lecturer.

—The following pupils in Parmenter school have not been absent or tardy in 1921-22:—John Easton, Grade I; Ruth Nash, Grade II; Theodore Allen, Grade V; Robert Webb, Grade V; Donald Dodge, Grade V.

—The friends of Miss Viola White of 32 Lake street, are pleased to know that she is fast recovering from her critical operation and illness that followed. While going through her trying experiences, she was most generously and kindly remembered by her friends.

—Miss Amy E. Schwamb was among the passengers sailing on the Olympic from New York on June 24th. She is with the Bureau of University Travel and the party will visit Paris, Belgium, Holland, Oberammergau, Italy, Switzerland and England. They will return from Southampton in September.

—Miss Jennie B. Allyn, who had been a school teacher for several years in several suburban places, died last week at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, following a short illness. She was a native of Cambridge and was the daughter of the late Horace A. Allyn, who was superintendent of the Cambridge Gas Light Company for thirty-five years. Miss Allyn was a graduate of the Boston University in the class of 1904, and had kept up her college relation through membership in several of its societies. For a time following her graduation, Miss Allyn taught in her home city, then went to Arlington, teaching first in the intermediate grades and subsequently in the High school, and after eleven years there she accepted a position three years ago with the Watertown High school where she specialized in mathematics. Her home was at 286 Mass. avenue, Arlington, where she lived with her mother, Mrs. Sarah E. Allyn. She was a member of the Shepard Memorial church, Cambridge.

—The annual meeting of the Bay State Historical League, held at the Fairbanks House with the Dedham Historical Society, Saturday, June 24, was attended by Mrs. E. C. Turner and Mrs. H. H. Homer as delegates from the Arlington Historical Society, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Leland and Mr. Thomas Hutchinson. The Fairbanks house is three hundred years old and an inspection of it proved to be most interesting. The ceilings are low with beams running across and there are relics of farming implements, pictures, etc. A new addition has been added to the house and on the porch of this addition, a basket lunch was enjoyed. At two o'clock, the company went to the rooms of the Historical Society in the centre of the town where the vice-president in the absence of the president, gave an interesting talk on the relics owned by the society, after a business meeting had been called. It was a pleasant afternoon enjoyed by those attending.

—The alarm from Box 35, corner of Addison and Pleasant streets, was rung in about ten o'clock last Saturday morning, for a fire at 105 Pleasant street, the residence of Mr. E. H. Plaisted, supposed to have started in a clothes chute and before the firemen arrived and had got a stream on the fire, the flames had raced to the top of the house where it was checked by the department. The first intimation that there was a fire in the house was when flames were discovered bursting out from the door opening to the chute on the second floor. The chemical was first used but the fire was beyond the scope of that, so water was resorted to with the result that the entire house was flooded. The most serious loss will be from water, although the third floor was badly damaged and one room on the second floor where it burned through the ceiling, which dropped. The Plaisteds were insured, but several of the paying guests that were in the house did not carry insurance and several lost considerable by water. The flames were confined to the blind attic, only breaking through in one place although it was necessary to break through the roof to fight the fire. Neighbors and friends were quick to offer aid and before the all out was sounded (two hours after the alarm was rung in), every one had been provided for in the way of shelter. The house had but recently been renovated and new lighting installed. The damage will probably be between three and four thousand dollars. George W. Corbett, captain of Wm. Penn Hose House No. 3, and driver of Combination B, received a bad cut on one of his legs when the floor on which he was working fell in, letting him down and cutting his leg so that he was sent to Symmes Hospital where four stitches were taken to close the wound. It is interesting to note that Corbett received his injury in the middle of the life when the stress and excitement incident to extinguishing the flames, made him unconscious as to his injury and it was not until all was over, he realized he had been injured. He remained at the hospital the following day and it will probably be some days before the cut is healed.

—A very pleasing recital was given last week Wednesday, by the pupils of Miss Helen Sumner at her best man was John T. McCarthy, brother of the groom. The maid of honor was dressed in blue satin and wore a hat to match. Her bouquet was pink roses. A reception followed the wedding at the home of the bride's brother, Joseph L. Beasley, 289 Broadway, where a wedding breakfast was served. The house was handsomely decorated with cut flowers, ferns and palms, the couple receiving beneath a bower of roses and ferns. After a wedding tour, the couple will make their home in Chicago where the groom is in business. The groom is a veteran of the U. S. Navy where he served several enlistments, rising to be a C. P. O. in the service. He toured the world with the fleet a number of times.

MCCARTHY-BEASLEY

KENNEY-FREDERICK WEDDING

A pretty home wedding took place Wednesday evening, June 28, at eight o'clock when Miss Lillian E. M. Frederick, daughter of Mr. John D. Frederick of 36 Park avenue north, Arlington Heights, became the bride of Mr. George J. W. Kenney, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kenney of Park avenue north.

The ceremony, which was the double ring, was performed by Rev. R. J. Davis and was witnessed by a large number of friends. The wedding march was played by Miss Sarah Head.

The bride made a lovely picture in her gown of white georgette trimmed with white satin, her tulle veil held in place with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor was Miss Ida Scheib. Her gown was pink chiffon over net. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mr. Albion Carlson acted as best man. The ushers were Mr. William Kenney, Mr. William Woodbury, Mr. Roy Goodwin.

A bower of yellow and white daisies banked in the background with roses made an attractive setting for the bridal party.

The couple was assisted in receiving by Mr. Frederick and the parents of the groom.

The bride and groom are well known at the Heights and in the Baptist church where they are active members.

After the wedding journey, Mr. and Mrs. Kenney will make their home with the bride's father at 36 Park avenue north.

FLYNN-TOOMEY

On Wednesday evening at the parochial residence of St. Agnes church, there was an interesting wedding, when Miss Agnes T. Toomey, daughter of Timothy Toomey of 46 Park street, became the bride of Mr. Charles A. Flynn of 84 Warren street, both of Arlington. The ceremony was performed by the pastor of the church, Rev. Mathew J. Flaherty. Miss Nellie S. Toomey, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and two children, Dorothea Kennedy, niece of the groom and Helen Toomey, niece of the bride, acted as flower girls. The best man was Daniel W. Flynn, brother of the groom.

The bride made a handsome appearance in a gown of white satin, trimmed with Duchess lace made with a court train. Her veil of tulle was held on the head with a spray of orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet was a shower of lilies of the valley and roses. Her maid of honor wore champagne georgette with hat to match, and carried pink roses. The two little flower girls were dressed in pink and blue.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bridal party returned to the home of the bride where a reception was tendered to a large number of friends. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion with cut flowers, ferns and palms, a bower of roses and greenery being over the couple during the reception. Many very useful and handsome gifts were received by the couple, one entire room being taken up with the display.

The bride and groom are both well known in town, both having been born here and graduates of the local schools. The bride was, up to the time of her marriage, an operator at the Main Exchange of the N. E. T. & T. Co. where she had many friends and was popular with the other employees. Mr. Flynn has been engaged in business in Arlington for several years. During the late war he served with the United States Medical Corps at Camp Upton. The wedding trip included New York and Atlantic City and on their return Mr. and Mrs. Flynn will reside at 46 Park street, Arlington.

SQUIRES-FORSYTH

Under an arbor of varied colored rambler roses and ferns, Florence Irene Forsyth, daughter of Mr. Henry D. Forsyth of Danvers, was married to Dana Nickerson Squires, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Squires of Cliff avenue, Lexington, at the home of her aunt, Mrs. John Lawrence, 42 Trowbridge street, Arlington, Thursday evening, June 29, at eight o'clock.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Warren N. Bixby, rector of Church of Our Saviour, the double ring service being used. Eighty guests were present. The house was decorated with a profusion of roses. Miss Evelyn McClure of Arlington, furnished the wedding music.

The bridal party entered the rose arbor through an aisle formed of daisy chains held by Evelyn and Edith Lawrence, cousins of the bride, Gordon Bell, a nephew of the bride, and Robert Blackler, cousin of the groom.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white georgette crepe, the skirt finished in points, each point being trimmed with six rows of white satin baby ribbon. It was confined at the waist with a girdle of white flowers and white velvet ribbon. The sleeves were the graceful flowing style. Her tulle veil was held in place with orange blossoms and she carried a shower of white roses and lilies of the valley. She wore the groom's gift, a pearl necklace. Miss Susan

Shaw of Danvers, who was bridesmaid, wore hand embroidered lace over yellow taffeta. Her bouquet was of sweetheart roses. Edith Lawrence wore a dainty frock of pink taffeta and her sister Evelyn, blue taffeta. Mr. William Downs of Somerville, a boyhood friend of the groom, acted as best man. ARLINGTON LOCALS

—Mr. and Mrs. H. Chester Howe and son, of Norfolk road, left on Monday for Allerton and are now registered at the Nautilus Inn.

—Tuesday evening Lieut. Hooley with Patrolmen Carroll and Nolan, arrested Salvador Mesiti, aged 56 years, of 75 Decatur street, and John Barbarello, aged 34 years, of 28 Freemont street, in connection with the alleged beating up of Salvador Carlino Sunday evening on North Union street. The case of Carlino is critical as he had not regained consciousness on Wednesday, when the two men arrested were in District Court. Their cases were held over to await the outcome of the injuries of Carlino.

—Here is a real good piece of news, especially to the Arlington Heights people who use the street cars. Beginning tomorrow, July 1, all cars from Harvard square will run through to Arlington Heights during the rush hours, thus more than doubling the number of cars to the Heights and giving a much better service. During what is known as the normal hours of the day, the cars will continue to stop at the center. This new scheme will be a big help at Harvard square in getting rid of some of the crush.

—The cloud burst coming to this section on the early evening of June 22, sent down a specially large quantity of water in the Heights section and caused much damage. The gutter on the northwest side of Park avenue, from near its junction with Appleton street, was ripped out and gullied to the depth of a foot or more, although paved with heavy stones. The flood also tore away a wide strip of brick pavement. This debris cluttered Mass. avenue and caused suspension of movement of electric cars for a considerable time. There was another bad washout at the foot of Appleton street and in several others in that locality. George Ahern, Superintendent of Public Works, had the town teams and men at work the following morning carting away the dirt.

—Robert S. Allen of Arlington, a member of the class of 1905, has been elected a member of the executive committee by Epsilon Chapter of the alumni of Boston University, which is made up of the graduates of the College of Liberal Arts. The first class to graduate from the College of Liberal Arts, the class of 1877, were the guests of honor at this alumni reunion held at Lassell Seminary, Auburndale. Among the members of this class who were back for Commencement was Mrs. Helen Magill White, the first woman to receive the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from Boston University, and so far as can be remembered, the first woman to be awarded this degree in the United States. The members of the graduating class of 1922 were formally installed as members of Epsilon Chapter on this occasion.

—The twilight baseball team met defeat on Monday evening at the hands of the Boston Tigers, the champion colored team of Greater Boston, in one of the fastest nine-inning games played here for some time. No matter where the Arlington players hit the ball, there was a player under it. There were a number of sensational plays that kept the crowd on edge. There were no scores until the sixth inning, when the Arlington team made a little slip up and the error cost them three runs before the inning was over. The teams were even as to hits, although one of the visiting players hit out a home run. Doherty of the Arlington team hit a long drive which was good for three bases, but in trying to stretch the hit to a home run he was nipped at the home plate. The game was well attended.

—The Fletcher tomb in the cemetery on Pleasant street was opened on the afternoon of June 27 to receive the body of Matthew Fletcher, late of Bedford, who owned a farm in that town. The incident suggested a bit of local history, as his father was one of the original group organizing the First Universalist church and society in Arlington. At that time he owned the estate now the property of Mr. L. M. Dolloff and considerable other holdings. His son, Matthew, sold his share in this estate several years ago and bought the farm at Bedford as above stated, but never severed his connection with the Arlington church, and Rev. W. H. Gould, present pastor, conducted the funeral service. Mr. Fletcher was in his 84th year and is survived by his widow, who is nearly exactly the same age.

—The Advocate hears of no special preparation being made for the celebration of the Fourth which is next Tuesday. There was a time when the night before this holiday was to be dreaded because of the pranks that were indulged in, not only by boys but young men. With the forbidding of the making of high power explosives the danger in this line has been eliminated. Also the restricting the setting off of any fire crackers and explosives until a certain hour has tended to lessen the accidents. Many remember when the Arlington Boat Club, now the Middlesex Sportsman's Association, was

CO-OPERATION

Gas Company and Plumbers

ARTICLE NO. I

To Our Customers:

There has always been a great deal of gas piping done by plumbers. They have also installed in the past many gas appliances. There has not always been the closest co-operation between the Gas Company and the plumbers. Both have done things which were wrong.

Realizing this and with a view to creating a better understanding between this company and the plumbers in our territory as well as to spread information concerning the correct methods for installing gas piping and gas appliances, we came to the conclusion that our customers would be better served; the plumbers would gain, and that we would benefit if harmony existed between this company and all the plumbers in our territory.
